Street*

Operative called at the Parish House of the Hungarian Reformed Church of Rev. Kosa, on Somerset and Division Streets. This is the church that Rev. Hamborsky built in 1915.

Operative asked Rev. Kosa, how long he had been officiating at his present church and he replied that he had been here a little over a year. In answer to Operative's question he said that Rev. Hamborsky had built the church in 1915. Operative asked him about the mortgage which had been taken on the church by the Hungarian Reformed Church of Hungary. In response to this Rev. Kosa said that the money had all been paid back at different intervals.

Operative asked Rev. Kosa if he could tell what the reasons were for Rev. Hamborsky leaving this church. Rev. Kosa replied that he was forced to leave the congregation, by his actions in connection with the church. One of the reasons was that he once brought in an Episcopal minister to the church and said to the congregation, "This is your new pastor."

At this time Operative asked Rev. Kosa if he was familiar with the statement made by Rev. Hamborsky in reference to a conversation he had with Dr. Hall. Rev. Kosa said that he had read it, but did not believe it. He further said that he believed he had been censored by the head of the Convocation for doing so.

Operative asked Rev. Kosa if he knew whether Rev. Hamborsky had any ecclesiastical business with Dr. Hall. He replied that he did not think so, unless it was when Rev. Hamborsky has foisted upon his congregation an Episcopal minister. He further stated that to accomplish this, he would have to go to Bishop Mathew, head of the Episcopal Church of New Jersey. And then the Bishop would appoint a committee consisting of Episcopal Ministers.

Rev. Kosa said it might have been that Dr. Hall had
